

SHARE YOUR PHOTOS EASILY

What are you planning to do with all those photos that you and your friends took on vacation this summer? How about all those family photos that will be taken this holiday season?

It is really quite easy to set up a shared photo album among friends or family so all parties involved can add their photos and videos and view those taken by others.

Trusted and well-established Cloud services such as iCloud (Apple devices), Google Drive, Microsoft OneDrive, and Dropbox allow you to create secure shareable photo albums. Once you create your shareable album with a unique name (e.g., "Summer 2023 in Hawaii"), you can upload your photos or videos. Most Cloud services have capabilities that will then enable you to sort the photos, create a slideshow, etc.

By way of the album sharing option, you can invite others to post their own photos and videos. The invitees will receive an e-mail or a text from you that contains a secure link to the album, allowing them to add their own photos and/or to view what is already in the album.

Some Cloud services will send an alert to the parties associated with a particular album to let them know when new photos or videos have been added to the shared album.

Give it a try!
